Do you feel "out of the loop" on major happenings in the community because you can't break away from your workplace/personal computer? The 6th ASG Media Center is updating and expanding its e-mail lists of individuals who would like to receive the Stuttgart Community Post per e-mail every week BEFORE it is available in print. The Media Center also maintains a list of individuals who wish to get notifications of important happenings in the community, force protection updates and urgent notices. Special Leave Accrual Information

As a result of the 9/11 terrorist attacks last year, many service members were authorized to carry forward up to twenty days over the sixty-day limit of "use or lose" leave. This Special Leave Accrual (SLA) can be used until Sept. 30, 2004. However, since leave is deducted on a "last-in, first out" basis, members might use their special leave before its expiration date. Service members who have an SLA leave balance should be concerned about the process because not paying attention to detail can result in expending the SLA prematurely. For more information on SLA, contact the following personnel or appropriate finance office: Army, 430-5608/5411; Navy, 430-8549/7278; Air Force, 430-8340; Marines, 431-2396.

Poison Prevention Begins at Home

Ninety percent of all childhood poisonings occur in the home. Prescription drugs and over-the-counter medications can be very dangerous in the hands of a child; even certain plants can be toxic. All poisonous products and medicines should be out of the reach and sight of children. Remember to store all poisonous products in original containers and keep medicines, vitamins and household products in containers with child-resistant caps. If your child comes in contact with a poisonous substance call the Landstuhl Poison Control Center at 486-7070/civ. 06371-86-7070. Be prepared to provide the following information: child's age and weight, the product container or bottle and the time the poisoning occurred.

Dependent Education Survey Results

The results of EUCOM's 2002 Dependent Education Survey show that since 1999, satisfaction with DoDDS-Europe schools has increased 76 percent. More than 89 percent of respondents whose children attend DoDDS-E schools were satisfied with the overall quality of education. The majority of parents believe their children are in a safe learning environment with a strong curriculum and quality teachers.

Survey results also indicate that parents want more communication and opportunities to address issues and concerns with their child's education.

Parents expressed an interest in more extracurricular and academic options for their children, especially the expansion of athletic programs. Parents were dissatisfied with discipline in the school system, and will support stricter enforcement of current student rules.
